Subject: Deadline extension for Bachelor's/Master's/diploma theses in case of computer breakdowns

An important component of the academic thesis involves intermediate results being regularly secured on an external data carrier. An extension of the delivery deadline, by no more than 7 days, will therefore be granted in future in case of data loss due to computer breakdowns.

Students are obliged to inform the responsible supervisors immediately after the breakdown occurs. A written application for deadline extension shall then be submitted to the examination committee by the supervising chair.
