

Dates for registration or login for examinations and publication of grades in the 2025 summer semester

Registration for examinations is effected in the student portal in KU.Campus: Login to KU.Campus with user ID and password => Registration via "My degree program", then go to module examinations of your degree program and register via "other modules" for module examinations that are not part of your degree program (e.g. freely elective area)

Amendments to the General Examination Regulations (APO) came into force in the 2023/2024 winter semester. The changes resulted in innovations regarding the registration and deregistration modalities of in-semester examinations (registration and login regulations). Please also refer to the relevant information on the website of the Examinations Office.

Types of examinations at the KU

Final examinations

A final examination is an oral or written examination that concludes a module at a certain date at the end of the semester.

In-semester examinations

All examinations that are not a single oral or written examination at the end of the semester are classified as in-semester examinations. (e.g. seminar paper, written assignment, presentation, portfolio, written/oral/practical examination). Login via KU.Campus is required for each in-semester exam.

Please note: If a module examination consists of several partial examinations that can be assigned to both in-semester examinations and end-of-semester examinations (e.g. presentation and written examination), the registration procedure is based on the regulations that apply to the final examinations.

If the examiner stipulates that students who have already logged in for an in-semester examination via KU.Campus must additionally register (e.g. via a registration list kept by the examiner) – if applicable within a specified period of time – the students are only considered to be duly registered for the module examination upon this registration. These examinations are subject to the above-mentioned conditions of participation for examinations requiring registration. The determination of a deadline for submission of examination performances shall be independent of the determination of registration modalities. It does not in itself create an obligation to register.

² De-registration and withdrawal regulations for oral final examinations

After expiry of the registration period, students can still de-register directly in KU.Campus up to 6 working days before the first individual examination date. In addition, it is also possible to de-register by submitting an informal written request via the Examinations Office (responsible administrator) up to the last working day before the first individual examination date of the final oral examination. Special rules apply to group examinations.

Detailed information on de-registration regulations for final oral examinations can be found on the Examinations Office's website under Frequently Asked Questions (button: De-registration for examinations/withdrawal)

³ The following special regulation applies to block courses: If block courses conclude with examinations that are to be assigned to the end-of-semester examinations (written examinations, oral examinations, but also partial examinations with different examination types such as presentation and written examination), the examination registration and de-registration period begins 14 days before the first blocked course and ends one day before the (first) respective examination date. If block courses conclude exclusively with in-semester examinations, the regulations specified for examination login shall apply.
