Transfer through events

The aim of knowledge transfer through events is to increase the visibility of the University and its knowledge transfer activities both in specialist circles and among the general public, and to promote interaction and communication between researchers and stakeholders in politics, business, and civil society. The KU places great importance on holding public events in the region at which researchers discuss important issues concerning the future with stakeholders and involve them in the development of strategies for dealing with social challenges. In this way, the views of people outside the University enrich research-based knowledge transfer.
